

Short Curriculum Vitæ

Carlos Gershenson García

Born on September 29th, 1978. Mexico City, Mexico.

Carlos Gershenson is studying a PhD at the Centrum Leo Apostel of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium (2002-), on “Design and Control of Self-organizing Systems”. He holds a MSc degree in Evolutionary and Adaptive Systems, from the University of Sussex (2001-2002), and a BEng degree in Computer Engineering from the Fundación Arturo Rosenblueth, México. (1996-2001). He studied five semesters of Philosophy at UNAM, México (1998-2001).

He has been an active researcher since 1997, working at the Chemistry Institute, UNAM, México, and a summer (1999) at the Weizmann Institute of Science, Israel. He has about forty scientific publications in books, journals, and conference proceedings. He has organized two workshops and been part of seven programme committees at international conferences and given about fifty presentations at conferences or research group seminars. He has been reviewer for several journals, books, and volumes.

He has a wide variety of academic interests, including self-organizing systems, artificial life, evolution, complexity, cognition, artificial societies, and philosophy.

He is a contributing editor for Complexity Digest (www.comdig.com), Book Review editor for the Artificial Life journal, and webmaster of alife.org. He has worked doing systems consulting, software and web development, teaching at undergraduate and graduate levels, and scientific divulgation and journalism.

Contact Details:

Carlos Gershenson
Centrum Leo Apostel
Vrije Universiteit Brussel
Krijgskundestraat 33
B-1160 Brussel - Belgium
Email: cgershen@vub.ac.be
Homepage: <http://homepages.vub.ac.be/~cgershen/>
Phone: +32 2 640 67 37
Fax: +32 2 640 67 37

Brussels, Belgium, February 12th, 2007.